Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.

There was no business session of the Cabinet yesterday, and consequently no meeting. The President, however, was in consultation with Secretary Boutwell during the greater part of the day, and it is understood that the Secretary of the Treasury submitted to the President the report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, which has been under consideration for some time past. The report, it is understood, contains a recommendation that the tax on distilled spirits be reduced to 50 cents per gallon, and that the tax on fermented liquors be reduced in proportion. The President, it is said, has not yet decided upon the recommendations of the report, but will probably do so before the meeting of Congress.

The report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue Department it is understood, will show that there have been large defalcations in the collection of the revenue, and that the Commissioner has recommended the appointment of a large number of additional detectives to ferret out the offenders. There is no question of the necessity of the enactment of such a law, and it is to be hoped that Congress will act upon it at the coming session.

Hon. W. H. Seward, late Secretary of State, and Hon. Thurlow Weed, of Albany, N. Y., are stopping at Willard's.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson, Ambassador at Londonderry, arrived before the President to-day to report to the President and Secretary of State. It is understood that Mr. Johnson will fully endorse, both as officially and personally all the acts of Minister Motley, and that he will also endorse the course of Secretary Fish in relation to the Alabama claims. It is said that Mr. Johnson will not remain at the court of St. James any longer than is necessary to arrange the business connected with his resignation. It appears that Mr. Johnson has not been entirely satisfied with the manner in which he has been treated by the British Government, and had managed by their courtesy to make himself quite popular with the people of England. It is not improbable that the President will appoint Mr. Johnson Minister to Russia, in place of Mr. Clay, who is desirous of returning home.

Hon. C. A. Dana, of New York, from the Western meeting of the Industry, reported that they had had a very successful meeting, and that the Secretary of Agriculture, Hon. Horace Capron, Hon. BOARD OF TRADE.

The Officers are Prevailed Upon to Withdraw their Resignations.

An Amicable Adjustment.

A special meeting of the members of the Board of Trade was held at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, pursuant to a call issued by the President, Mr. Wm. Ogden, for the purpose of considering the resignations of the officers of the Board, which had been tendered in consequence of the action of the Board in refusing to admit to membership Messrs. Hoyt, Wright & Co., and Messrs. Hoyt, Sprague & Co.

The President called the meeting to order at 4:30 p.m., and stated the object for which it had been called.

Mr. W. H. Bradley, I want to withdraw this resignation. I have no desire to withdraw it, and do not intend to withdraw it, and am willing to stand by it to the end.

Mr. W. H. Bradley, Why, gentlemen, will you not act on the letter—

Mr. Bradley—I have no desire to withdraw it, and do not intend to withdraw it, and am willing to stand by it to the end.

Mr. Ogden—I would like to say a few words. I have no desire to withdraw my resignation, I think, Mr. President's, I have no desire to withdraw mine.

Mr. W. H. Bradley—I have no desire to withdraw this resignation, and do not intend to withdraw it, and am willing to stand by it to the end.
